The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

The Sad Connection: Freedom and Pornography

No great sorrow was generated by the shooting of Larry Flynt, publisher of HUSTLER, earlier this year.

Being publisher of a patently pornographic magazine can do little to elicit sympathy even though hundreds of thousands of readers pay $2.00 a copy to read his girl-studded nudie magazine.

Since the attempted assassination a couple of months have passed giving time for reflective contemplation and the scope of concern widens. Not for Flynt, per se, but for us as a society.

In the current isue of TRIAL, the national legal magazine aimed primarily at trial lawyers, is a study by New York Attorney Herald Price Fahringer, general counsel to the First Amendment Lawyers' Assn. He recently defended the obscenity prosecution against Flynt and others.

Whether we agree or not, Fahringer's point is well-taken. Most people are opposed to smut. Other than peddlers, some of whom became rich in the racket, no one else would be harmed if it didn't exist. But tied to publishing pornography are the basic freedoms of every American.

It may be a bitter pill to swallow, but there's what Fahringer says about it in his magazine article, "ARE WE AFRAID TO BE FREE?"

"On March 6, 1978, in Lawrenceville, Georgia, Larry Flynt, publisher of Hustler magazine, was struck down by two 44-calibre bullets fired from a high-powered rifle by an unknown assassin. One bullet cut into his spine and may leave his legs paralyzed forever. As he lay face down on a sidewalk in that small town with his stomach torn open, the civilized world was again scandalized by another senseless act of violence.

"No one knows quite why he was attacked except that he was thought by some to be a brazen pornographer and a heathen who recently announced his conversion to Christianity. We must all wonder why and how it is that these shocking episodes of savage brutality continue to be perpetuated in a society thought to be sane.

"I expect psychologists will continue to pick at the lock of the strange mind that carries the germs of assassination. Sociologists will continue to search for ways to diffuse these explosive social forces that endanger all of us. However, I fear the cause of these dreadful incidents may lie beyond the appliances of all our sciences.

"Perhaps the explanation does lie lost in the dark recesses of a demented brain or the awful heat of burning crosses strung throughout the state of Georgia. The solution may be located in the fever of a religious zealot "doing God's work" or might even lay carefully folded between the files of the discredited CIA. We may never know the true answer.

"But we must acknowledge that our universal ability to discourage this form of brute force is the major failure of our civilization. We now know that assassination has become fully democratized. No one is safe, including the lawyers who speak on behalf of the unpopular and controversial client.

"Out of all this suffering and shame should come the answer to the most obvious of questions 'which is more obscene, a tawdry but innocuous magazine, such as Hustler, or the cruel and stupid crippling of a man? For most of us the answer is clear. The real obscenity of the world exists in the terrible injury done to innocent people by those who continue to take the law into their own hands and become judge, jury, and executioner.

"Perhaps the more fundamental question posed by this terrifying affair is whether we, as Americans, are afraid to be free. The enjoyment of freedom means putting up with an awful lot of that which most of us hate. Sex magazines, X-rated movies, bull horns, the Ku Klux Klan, the American Nazi Party, evangelists, racial slurs, anti-Semitic remarks, protests, picket signs, four letter words, graffiti, underground newspapers, are offensive to many of us.

"But freedom is indivisible. You cannot save it for one man and deny it to another. It must exist for all of us or someday, it may not exist for any of us. Eighty-one percent of the people of this world have lost their freedom. We are a distinct minority. That startling statistic should impress upon all of us what a precious but perishable commodity free expression is.

"When our forefathers granted to each of us free speech, they knew its use would not always be in good taste or pleasing to those in places of power. They willed this right to us because they knew of no other way a free people could conduct a representative form of government. This liberty must be fought for every day of our lives; otherwise it will wither and die or be taken from us.

"There are those rare occasions in our history when the most awful of social forces crash head-on in some small place. When they do, the shock lays bare all of the fears of mankind. Such a place was Lawrenceville. Maybe Larry Flynt will become just one more grim statistic left unattended in a newspaper morgue. I hope not."

CHARGERETTE — Charlie Gundersen, former Miss Lemon Grove, has been selected as one of 20 girls of 104 to represent the San Diego Chargers for the coming professional football season.

She was Miss Cajon Speedway and Miss Gong Show Queen. She is a finalist in the 1978 Miss San Diego Pageant. She lives on Cypress ave.

2 Candidates Win Endorsement Of Newspapers

A suburban newspaper has endorsed Lemon Grove City Councilman Jack Doherty for the post of sheriff and a former local resident, Neil Good for county assessor.

The Chula Vista Star News said Good, who was graduated from Mt. Miguel High School, would be viable, would give active and sober leadership and would fight for the taxpayer.

The newspaper said that Doherty has "energy, high intelligence and a determination to put the sheriff's house in order."

La Prenza, a San Diego Spanish language newspaper, endorsed Doherty last month.

PUC Implements New System for Gas Rates

The state Public Utilities Commission has adopted a supply adjustment mechanism (SAM) to more accurately reflect the difference between estimated sales of gas made in rate proceedings and actual sales.

The new proceeding, PUC spokesmen said, "will merely insure that gas utilities achieve the gas margin last found necessary and limit the utility to that margin."

"Gas margin" was defined by the commission as "revenues from the sale of gas less the cost of that gas."

Supply and sales has always proven to be a troublesome issue in rate proceedings, and while it can safely predict, that on a long-term basis, supplies from traditional sources are declining, short-term fluctuations resulting from factors such as climatic conditions or the market price of alternate fuels can be both unexpected and dramatic.

"Our analysis," the PUC said, "must be addressed not to 'supply' but rather to sales. The validity of the traditional notion that all of a gas utility's supply can and will be sold disappeared with the declining block rate structure.

"We recently recognized that our abandonment of the traditional declining block rate structure could, in combination with unusual market conditions for alternate fuels, impair utility revenues to such a degree that some form of increase to non-interruptible customers would be required."

Single-Family L.G. Home Up $13,000 in '78

Home prices are continuing to rise and there is no sign of let up, said E. C. Williams, County Assessor this week.

"It appears that increase in values will continue for some time to come," he added.

He listed 28 communities in making a comparison in values.

1977 sales prices compared with 1978 in these communities are:

Lemon Grove	$33,000	now $47,500
La Mesa	55,000	now 68,000
El Cajon	43,000	now 58,000
San Marcos	44,500	now 64,000

No comparison was made of Spring Valley values. Rancho Santa Fe, with highest valued single family houses in the county came in at $155,000 now $237,000. La Jolla, $127,000 now $185,000.

LG Schools Face Budget Cut If Proposition Thirteen Passes

By Bob Melton

Elimination of school bus service, community services and extra-curricular activities and increased class sizes are possible effects of Proposition 13 on the Lemon Grove School District, according to district trustees.

All are options for cutting 1978-79 expenditures trustees may have to consider if the June 6 ballot measure, the Jarvis-Gann Property Tax Initiative, is approved by voters statewide.

The district expects to lose $1.4 million in 1978-79 revenue, approximately 27 per cent of total projected revenues, if the proposition passes, trustees said in a letter to taxpayers approved for release at Tuesday night's meeting.

Although trustees voted on May 9 to oppose Proposition 13 and urge support of the alternative Proposition 8, trustees Victoria Morgan and Dave Spisak had questioned whether the district could legally use its funds to disseminate information about effects of Proposition 13 on Lemon Grove schools.

Information Legal

That school districts may legally do so has been established in a test case in Superior Court in Los Angeles, the trustees' letter said.

"As long as what is disseminated is material limited to what the effect of the possible decrease in financing will have upon the school board," the letter states, judgment in the test case was that such an expenditure would be not only appropriate but "the duty" of a school board.

The wording of Proposition 13, and widespread confusion about its possible long-range effects, makes it very hard for the district to identify specific budget cuts that might be required, said Dr. Robert Sutton, district superintendent.

"The main concern of the board is to keep its options open at this time," Sutton said. "Since it's possible the state may make up in some way for revenue lost through Proposition 13, about all we can do now is identify areas where cuts might be needed."

Possible economizing steps mentioned in the letter are reducing non-teaching personnel, not replacing teachers and other certificated personnel when they leave (which would increase class sizes), not replacing equipment or buying new equipment, and reducing employes' salaries.

Other possible cuts are in the community services budget and in district-provided transportation for students.

"There's a certain level of transportation the state requires us to provide," Sutton said, "such as for handicapped students.

"Cutting community services would mean, for instance, not keeping the schools open for scouting and other community groups."

Current class sizes in the district average 28 pupils, Sutton said, "and we could go up to 30 or more without incurring financial penalties from the state."

Teachers Protected

One problem the district faces in budget cuts is that a school district cannot legally dismiss teachers just because of lack of funds, Sutton said.

"Layoffs of classified staff would be legally possible," he said, "however in many cases this would jeopardize federal or state-funded programs, resulting in an even greater loss of revenue."

In other business, trustees Tuesday night were told by two local dentists of a "surprising lack of awareness" among some district parents of their children's tooth decay and other problems.

Fifteen per cent of pupils examined in grades 2 through 4 showed severe tooth decay, said Dr. George Matosian, who with Dr. Roger Ballard examined, at no charge, some 3,000 of the district's 3,400 pupils since January.

"I've worked in a number of public health situations," Matosian told trustees, "and while 15 per cent isn't a startling figure, it is a little surprising to see this in a sophisticated urban population."

Decay Obvious

While children in this age group are very prone to tooth decay anyway, Matosian said, "in many cases we found it was just a matter of parents not looking in their children's mouths, since decay was obvious even to an untrained eye."

School nurses took names of children found to have severe tooth decay and notified their parents, Matosian said, "and this was really excellent initiative on their part.

"However, of all the pupils identified in this severe decay group, I've only seen one in my office to have some work done.

"Unfortunately, a lot of parents seem to feel that decay in baby teeth is not a problem, because they're just there to fall out. But problems at this age can have an effect on adult teeth when they start coming in."

The examinations also showed that only 4 per cent of pupils in kindergarten and first grade had severe decay, and only 2 per cent in grades 5 and 6.

Ballard, who concentrated on tooth alignment and bite while Matosian looked for decay, said only 1 per cent of kindergartners and first graders showed serious alignment and bite problems, 5 per cent in grades 2 through 4 and 11 per cent in grades 5 and 6.

Data was incomplete in the district's junior high students, Ballard said, because examinations were not completed in the junior highs.

Hearing Set for Friday On SDG&E Rate Increase

LOS ANGELES — Prehearing conference has been scheduled by the California Public Utilities Commission for tomorrow on the application of San Diego Gas & Electric for authority to increase rates.

The utility is seeking an increase of approximately $112,600,000 a year or 17%. By departments, the increases would be $87,230,000, or 17.4% for electricity, $25,240,000, or 15.7%, for gas, and $190,000, or 18.2% for steam.

The conference will begin at 9:30 a.m. in the Auditorium of the Department of Transportation, 2829 Juan st., San Diego, with Administrative Law Judge Kenji Tomita presiding.

In its application to the Commission, SDG&E contends that without rate relief, its rate of return on investment will slip to 2.47% by the beginning of next year and seeks rates it says will allow it an opportunity to earn an 11.27% return.

The PUC stressed tomorrow's conference is only a preliminary to public hearings which will follow.

Specific dates set aside to hear from the utility's customers are June 13 and 14 between 2 and 4 p.m. and 7 and 9 p.m. in the Auditorium of the State Building, 1350 Front st., San Diego.

Foreign Exchange Students Seek Host Families in East County

Host families are to provide a bed, three meals a day, transportation to school and church, and laundry. For each foreign student attending a U. S. High School, that school is eligible to send a student abroad, either from the host family or, if there is no interest, from a different family.

Applications should be directed to Wm. R. Smith, Western —Director, IFI, Box 1212, Sedona, Az. 86336.

There's An Answer

by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Vincent Peale

At end of rope

Q. My daughter at college called us to say she is pregnant. She was living with a man who said he loved her but is now no longer interested.

Two days ago my 17-year-old son was arrested for selling drugs to an undercover officer. My wife does nothing but cry all day, and I'm afraid she may start drinking again.

I feel that God has abandoned us. Why else would this happen to us? I'm at the end of my rope and don't know what to do.

A. The reason all this happened is that, seemingly, your daughter has no morals; neither has your son. Why haven't they?

God certainly doesn't want it that way. If you develop a stronger faith in God you will get insights into methods by which you can rescue your son and daughter from the mess they have made of their lives.

Instead of your wife crying all day, she ought to start thinking. It is possible to think and pray one's way out of difficulty, including your own.

In the hope that it will help you think and pray your way to a better life, we are placing your family on our mailing list to receive "Creative Help for Daily Living," a monthly mailing of inspirational literature that goes to more than 500,000 people in 120 countries.

Anyone who wishes a free copy of this publication may write us at Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

Keeps romance a secret

Q. I have been dating a sweet, nice man for over a year. My family doesn't know about him.

The reason I have kept it a secret is because he is black and I am white.

We have lots of things in common and love each other very much. This is truly the man I want.

Is there anything wrong with our loving each other?

I've been divorced for nine years and have two lovely daughters. Do you think our getting married would hurt them?

A. Your question, as we understand it, is: Would such a marriage hurt your parents and your daughters? Naturally, we cannot know your parents' attitude nor that of your daughters.

Perhaps you could ascertain their reaction by asking your parents to entertain your friend as a house quest for perhaps a week. You would need to be there also. This would help determine whether the man fits into the family climate.

The same advice would be given if the man were of your own race.

Wants her own home

Q. Before my husband died we gave our son three acres and kept one, and we built him a house next door.

Now he says he hates the place and is going to move, and I should go also. He says for me to sell and get out.

I have been living alone 15 years now and want to stay here. I cannot understand this.

A. Let your son go. You have a right to live where you wish, and if he doesn't like it, that does not need to affect your life plan.

Be independent, keep a loving attitude, don't argue. He, too, has a right to live where he desires, and when he moves away perhaps you will get a good neighbor in his place.

And then, maybe it is all talk, anyway.

If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale to discuss in this column, write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman. Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit.

Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more than ye, except ye abide in me.

Jerry Rucker (right) owner of Gordon's Wine Cellar offers a taste of Cabernet Sauvignon Villa Bianchi to Joe Stevens and Barbara Wallace of the Fiesta Dinner Theatre.
"Villa Bianchi is our house wine. It is a pleasure to serve, and our guests enjoy it," said Stephens.
According to Rucker the Villa Bianchi Winery in Kerman, Calif. has developed a new process (involving removal of the grape's skin) which leaves the wine with a natural grape fragrance and no bitterness.
Gordon's Wine Cellar and the Fiesta Dinner Theatre are located under the same roof at 9665 Campo rd. in Spring Valley.

Food Stamp Changes To Redirect Benefits

Food stamp reforms to eliminate participants with high incomes and to include poor people who are not participating have been proposed by the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture.

Under the changed law, people with luxury cars, some students and persons convicted of fraud would be temporarily or permanently cut off the program.

Also envisaged is the termination of cash payments requirements which would enable participants to receive food stamps without paying cash first.

Comments on the proposal should be sent to Nancy Snyder, deputy administrator for family nutrition programs, Food and Nutrition Service, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250.

This Week's RECIPE

Whipped Cream Pie

This may well be one those who would resurrect Vaudeville should refuse to throw.

It is the comic's favorie: cream pie, a colliage of marshmallow, whipped cream, chocolate in crumb butter crust.

The major reason for not throwing this one is the two liqueurs, creme de menthe and creme de cacao.

Frozen Whipped Cream Pie

¼ cup butter, melted
24 (2½ inch) chocolate wafers (five ounces)
½ cup milk
24 marshmallows
¼ cup green creme de menthe
2 tablespoons white creme de cacao
1 cup whipping cream

Combine butter and finely crushed wafers. Press against bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate. Bake in a 375 degree oven for seven minutes.

Heat milk and marshmallows, stirring constantly until smooth and blended. Cool.

Stir in liqueurs.

Chill until it begins to thicken and fold in whipping cream.

Turn into pastry shell and freeze.

When filling is firm, enclose pie in plastic wrap or freezer paper. If desired, sprinkle with chocolate wafer crumbs just before serving. Makes one (9-inch) pie.

Nutrition Fair For Seniors Open

Senior citizens who want to learn more about nutrition and diets are invited to the nutrition education fair sponsored by the County of San Diego's Area Agency on Aging today 1-4 p.m.

Special diet displays will be provided by Grossmont College, S.D. Gas and Electric Co., the Diabetic Assn. and the Metropolitan Area Advisory Committee (MAAC).

The original script, prepared by the ensemble, features quotes from Shaw and scenes from 7 of his plays.

"Shaw's Women" will be performed Friday and Saturday nights, June 2 and 3 and again on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights June 9, 10 and 11 at 8 p.m.

The Marquis Public Theatre is at 3717 India st. in the India Street Art Colony, south of Washington. Admission is $3

The Man to Beat At SB is Lauri

Last year, Jim Lauri of Cypress was rookie of the year on the U.S. Racing Club rolls —obviously a driver with whom his midget auto opponents would have to contend.

That's right.

He's leading the title race now.

Saturday night at South Bay Park Speedway 117 Lauri intends to prove the point that he is one of the title contenders when the mighty midgets make their second appearance on the dirt quarter mile oval.

In the first show at South Bay he placed third behind former champion Roy Cook Jr. of Redlands and Mike Gehringer of Anaheim.

Last week at Santa Maria he placed second to Fresno's Ray Lawson.

Gates open at 6 p.m. for the doubleheader program with time trials slated for 7 and the first of two trophy dashes planned for an 8 o'clock start.

Russ Roberson of Imperial Beach and Norb Wolf of San Diego will resume their battle for the street stock title. Roberson currently has 510 points to 488 for Wolf.

San Diego area entries in the midget competition will be airline pilot Les DeLine of San Diego, Bobby Lean of El Cajon and Gary Toomer of Imperial Beach.

Meanwhile, promoter Don Basile has announced that his motorcycle TT and three-wheeler racing program will begin with weekly Friday night programs starting June 2.

This completes the versatile program at Speedway 117.

'Horsenapped' Racer In LosAl Trials

LOS ALAMITOS — Town Policy, the nation's 1977 Champion Juvenile, will be making his return to the racing wars after being stolen last October when he meets the nation's top sophomores in the Los Alamitos Derby trials at the Orange County track Friday night.

The $100,000 Los Alamitos Derby is part of the record $3.5 million purse structure for the 82-night summer meet. Nearly $1 million is earmarked for the stakes program highlighted by the $400,000 Kindergarten, the richest race in California history, on July 29.

There are nine races on tap nightly Monday through Saturday, with a 7:45 p.m. first post time. The first and eighth races have $2 exactas with the fourth, sixth and ninth races offering $5 exactas.

13 Unlucky When it Equals Padres vs. Reds and Dodgers

You won't find too many people who figure that 13 is a lucky number and for the San Diego Padres if they never have to buck that figure again it will be none too soon.

Having to play the Cincinnati Reds and Los Angeles Dodgers in back-to-back series is a tough enough proposition for any ball club, but when you consider the fact that the Padres have to play 13 straight games against the two teams, well, that's a different story.

That, in fact, is exactly what the Padres schedule has called for as San Diego is just now winding down from having played the two Western Division contenders in 13 consecutive contests.

San Diego will be closing out their current homestand with three meetings with the Reds Friday through Sunday, May 26-28. The opening two games of the series will begin at 7 p.m. with the Sunday afternoon finale getting underway at the usual 1 p.m. time.

Then, it will be on the road for the Padres as they complete the rugged 13 straight with three in Los Angeles against the Dodgers Monday through Wednesday, May 29-31.

That three-game series will actually open up a 12-game road trip for the Padres as they return to action versus the National League's Eastern Division. Following the threesome with the Dodgers, the Padres will pay three-game visits to the New York Mets June 2-3-4, Montreal Expos June 5-6-7 and Chicago Cubs June 9-10-11. The affairs with the Mets and Expos will be the first of the season for the Padres as the club completes the first full round of competition against all of the other clubs in the National League.

"If we can put together a decent road trip then we may be in good shape to remain within striking distance going into the All-Star Game period," manager Roger Craig said. "This will be our last lengthy swing prior to the mid-season break.

"A good performance would tie in nicely with a long home period when we play 19 in a row here in San Diego where we have been playing better than .500 thus far."

3 Padres on Ballot

All-Star Voting Begins June 2

The San Diego Padres are calling the 1978 season an "All-Star Summer" and with good reason since the club will be the host for this year's All-Star Gameto be held on Tuesday, July 11.

Well, San Diego Padre fans will have the opportunity to help place one or more members of the ball club on the National League's roster now that the official voting period has begun. Fans will be able to cast ballots for their favorite Padre players from now until the end of the voting period on Sunday.

For openers, the Padres have their three outfielders listed on the ballot in the talents of Dave Winfield (the Padres representative in the game last season), Oscar Gamble and George Hendrick. What's more, fans are afforded the opportunity to write-in candidates which means support can be mustered for such Padres as rookie sensation Ozzie Smith at shortstop or third baseman Bill Almon who has been amongst the league leaders in hitting for some time better than .300.

For two of the three Padres on the Gillette ballot (Winfield and Hendrick) being in the All-Star Game is not a new experience. Winfield was one of the stars in last season's 7-5 National League win as he was two-for-two with his two-run single in the seventh inning providing the eventual winning margin. Hendrick, on the other hand, played for the American League squad in the 1974-75 affairs.

Looking back through the years, the Padres have been represented by six different players plus a manager in the All-Star Game. Historically speaking, the Padres have been represented thusly: 1969—Chris Cannizzaro, 1970—Cito Gaston, 1971-72-73—Nate Colbert, 1974—John Grubb, 1975-76—Randy Jones and 1977—Dave Winfield. Manager John McNamara was the third base coach in the 1976 game.

No S.D. Sports Winners? Take a Look at Friars

Some professional teams are able to accomplish a complete turn-around from one year to the next. The San Diego Friars, through their first dozen matches of 1978, have done even better than that.

From a 4-8 record last season, the Friars achieved a 9-3 mark so far this year. Furthermore, the team required no major transfusion to develop such a handsome statistic.

Ross Case came back after a year's absence and Rod Laver was named coach. Janet Young arrived while Cliff Drysdale and Dianne Fromholtz departed.

"The attitude is completely different this year," said a player who asked not to be named. "We're concerned with winning while last year we were concerned primarily with just playing."

In assigning credit for the flip-flop in the standings—the Friars lead the Western Division by as much as three games—you have to award the honor to Laver, as a coach, and Mona Guerrant, as a player.

Laver's record as a player serves him well now as a coach. There can be no doubt as to his priority and his commitment. Laver's players do not have to be told where he stands. They just look it up.

Guerrant's achievements parallel the team's. Playing doubles with Kerry Reid and mixed doubles with Case she was 9-3 in both events, identical to the team's win-loss record.

Guerrant suffered from shoulder and arm injuries in 1977 but has been trouble-free this year. She's also improved her serve and her return of service has been far more effective.

She is a much more positive player this year and so are her teammates. Winning, naturally, encourages that personality. But so does the person in charge.

The Friars conclude the current 8-match 5-straight nights road play Friday. Their return to the Sports Arena is Wednesday against the Phoenix Racquets.

Billie Jean King and Vitas Gerulaitis arrive with the New York Apples June 2.

Race Slump Ends for Elder Record Eyed in Comeback

RIVERSIDE—Ray Elder has ended his three-year stock car racing slump even before his appearance in the biggest West Coast racing event of midseason—the NAPA 400 at Riverside International Raceway on June 11.

On a short, dirt-surface oval in Petaluma sometimes referred to as a "bullring," the Racing Farmer from Caruthers, California, won his 46th all-time NASCAR Winston West race a week ago. It was the first win for Elder since he dropped out of full time competition in 1975.

Elder now looms as a threat to alter the record books. He is a good bet to catch all-time victory leader Jack McCoy of Modesto, who retired in 1974 after winning 49 races.

The active drivers closest to Elder aren't even close. Part time competitor and long time Elder rival Hershel McGriff of Bridal Veil, Oregon, has 23 wins, and Jimmy Insolo of Mission Hills has won twice on the circuit so far this season to boost his mark to 13.

Driving the Midland Motor Homes Tspen, Elder will race one more time before the NAPA 400. That will be at Bakersfield's Mesa Marin Speedway on May 28. Then he will unveil the team's new superspeedway car, a 1978 Dodge Magnum, at Riverside.

It's been a difficult and frustrating experience for Elder to recapture his winning ways. He has been at it for 18 months with little success.

The NAPA 400 weekend will also present the fans with 200 kilometers of NASCAR Grand American racing, as such top West Coast drivers as Ivan Baldwin, Rick Becker, Ron Esau, Insolo and McGriff race June 11 in the Warner W. Hodgdon 200.

Riverside pioneered the metric concept in stock car racing to produce shorter, faster, more hotly contested racing. Tickets to the 600 kilometer stock car doubleheader are on sale at all Ticketron outlets. The phone: 714/653-1161.

HollyPark Weekend Has $200,000 Race

With eastern invaders Bowl Game and Noble Dancer set to face the best turf runners in the West, the $200,000 Invitational Turf Handicap promises to be the most competitive grass race in North America when it highlights a special, Monday racing program on Memorial Day at Hollywood Park.

The holiday weekend at the Inglewood track gets underway Saturday with three-year-old fillies battling in the $40,000 Honeymoon Handicap and Sunday three-year-old stars Think Snow and Radar Ahead will clash in the $50,000 Will Rogers Handicap. First post all three days will be 2 p.m.

Campsites Rare On 3-Day Weekend

Reservations for campsites during the Memorial Day weekend are still available at 11 units of the State Park System.

Reservations are filled for all state beach campgrounds. Reservations were still available earlier this week at Anza-Borrego Desert State Park and Picacho State Recreation Area in Southern California, at San Luis Reservoir State Recreation Area in the central valley, at Tahoe State Recreation Area at Lake Tahoe, and at Castle Crags State Park in the northern inland area.

Campsite reservations were also available at six state park unts on the north coast: Del Norte Coast Redwoods, Humboldt Redwoods, Jedidiah Smith Redwoods, and Prairie Creek Redwoods State Parks; Patrick's Point State Park; and Standish-Hickey State Recreation Area.

Campsites that have not been reserved will be available for the Memorial Day weekend on a first-come, first-served basis. Information on such availability may be obtained by phoning the state park reservation office in Sacramento, (916) 445-8828 Monday through Friday from 10:15 a.m. to 5 p.m. Also, some state park campgrounds do not take reservations, and those will be available first-come, first-served.

Most state park campgrounds are on the statewide computerized reservation system operated by Ticketron, with reservations available as early as 8 weeks in advance.

The Ticketron operator can determine immediately if campsites are available at a state park area.

Reservations may be made at any of the more than 150 Ticetron outlets in California. In San Diego, the phone is 565-9947.

Holiday Air Show For Aero Museum

The Memorial Day Weekend Air Show announced by the San Diego Combat Pilot's Assn. as a fund raiser for the Aerospace Museum and Hall of Fame Recovery Fund is shaping up as one of the finest in the west.

Confirmed performances by the world renowned Bob Hoover in a P-51 and in a Shrike Commander will only be part of the 3-day, two hour aerial serial thriller.

The Air Show at Brown Field on May 27, 28 and 29 will also include aerobatics by Tom Close in a Pitts Special, Ted Steckbauer in a 126 Sailplane, Jim Raymond in his AT-6, and Debbie Gary in a Bellanca Viking.

Jim Appleby and Eric Schilling, flying a Fokker Tri-plane and a Neinport 28 will demonstrate formation aerobatics and perform a simulated World War I "Dogfight" on Saturday and Sunday of the Memorial Day Weekend.

Lloyd Wittenberg will perform in his T-34, the Borderland Parachute Team will conduct a mass jump and a Formula One Air Race will be demonstrated.

Vintage aircraft will be parked alongside modern military jet and prop fighters in the static displays, while the visiting public will have the opportunity to participate in "Barnstorming" by riding in an assortment of open cockpit vintage planes.

Profits will aid in the recovery of the Aerospace Museum and International Aerospace Hall of Fame, both destroyed by fire on February 22, in San Diego's Balboa Park.

Admission to the show is by voluntary donations.

Gates open at 9 a.m.

Inner Tube Race Set For June 4 on Bay

The Second Annual Big Deal Mission Bay Inner Tube Race will be held on June 4 at Crown Point Shores.

The race is open to individuals or groups in two categories. Pre-registration is required.

Rules and entry blanks may be obtained by writing Mission Bay Associates, P.O. Box 9509, San Diego 92109.

There are no entry fees.

TAKE FIVE

by John E. Wirges

The whir of projectors is gone from the inner chambers of the coaches wing at the business end of the San Diego Chargers offices these days.

No longer is the buzz of electric motors and the flicker of lights the sole employment of Tommy Prothro's assistant geniuses as they probe enemy lines and aerial attacks for some undiscovered weak point.

The Chargers are only six weeks away from summer camp and Prothro's prideful partisans are plannin' the adventure in minute detail.

One really wouldn't be overly surprised to learn that on day four, 25 minutes into the second hour of the afternoon practice, coverage three will be dry-run by linebackers and defensive backs, while wide-receivers and running backs will attempt the intricacies of zone flooding.

Plans for the Charger's summer gathering are not a day-to-day, catch-as-catch-can, general outline to be followed where possible. Not at all.

Prothro's plans for his Pachyderms permeate every gasp of air they draw into their hard work lungs. Prothro's summer schedule makes the Allied Plans for Normandy seem understated.

Tommy's Troops have a time to get up, a time to eat and a couple of times a day to go to war.

Then at night, when normal human being rest and recreate, Prothro's Pachyderms are hittin' the books. One book, really. The manual for growth, happiness and survival in a violent society through the fall and early winter of 1978-79. The San Diego Chargers Playbook.

It will be studied every night with the zeal and intensity of venerable holymen deciphering ancient scrolls as they seek the secret of life in a dead tongue.

The Play Book's language will be mostly in code. "X," "Y," and "Z" will have new meaning and non-letters like circles and boxes will be as understandable as the center fold of Playboy magazine.

The polish is still wet on the newest edition of the secret 1978 Charger Playbook. One can't help but wonder if there are diagrams for a double quarterback, multi-flanked passing attack wherein the Chargers may utilize both Dan Fouts and James Harris on the heaving end while Charlie Joiner, Dwight McDonald, Johnny Rodgers and rookie John Jefferson each attack a defensive back to free tight ends Pat Curran and Bob Klein for large gains in the vacated zones.

The options available to Charger thinking this year are all but astronomical. They have so much talent, Prothro may have to seek permission to increase playing limits from 11 men to 14 or 15 at a snap.

After years of promise, the time seems ripe for the Chargers to deliver. Their young defense was one of the best in the National Football League last year and should blossom into full maturity this campaign.

Without injuries to pave the way, it's unlikely any rookie will earn a starting berth on a team that has been growing together the last three years. In fact, this year's number one draft selection John Jefferson could be the only rookie to see any action worth mentioning except in lost causes or coasting wins.

Rookies, first year players, free agents and a handful of veterans report to the Chargers training camp at UC-San Diego July 12th. All-hands are due in the following week. Workouts are open to the public.

And don't you think it's time to consider your season ticket plans? The way things are going, the best Charger army is going off to the NFL wars this fall and you're certainly going to want to see some of the battlefield action. And there ain't all that many good seats left.

U.S. Motocross Grand Prix At Del Mar Raceway June 4

The 8th annual United States 500cc Motocross Grand Prix—7th stop of a 12-race world championship series—offers much in rider comparisons and drama this year.

The event, to be sponsored by the Bel-Ray Oil Co., is scheduled for Carlsbad Raceway June 4. It is the only world championship for 500cc machines conducted in the U.S. and is sandwiched between the Swedish and Italian Grands Prix.

The major question seems to be whether any American rider can break up the 8-year domination of the event by Europeans. Or can anyone keep Dutchman Gerritt Wolsink from winning a fifth straight U.S. Grand Prix.

Last year, Jim Pomeroy of Yakima, Washington, became the first American to win a moto but crashed at the start of the second race and saw his chances of overall victory disappear. This season, American Brad Lackey of the Honda factory team, is running second to defending champion Heikki Mikkola of Finland in the title chase and could be a definite threat.

Interestingly, there are two San Diegans—Marty Smith, a former national champion, and Tommy Croft, who placed 4th overall in this event a year ago—who might have the "home course" advantage.

But stars from 10 nations will see action, including five-time world champion Roger DeCoster of Belgium, Herbert Schmitz of West Germany, Hakan Anderson and Bengt Aberg of Sweden, Graham Noyce and John Banks of Great Britain and Willi Bauer of West Germany.

DeCoster would appear to be the sentimental favorite because he has never won at Carlsbad but has come so close.

Multi-Hulls to Join Thunderboats' Event

Another first for race fans that promises to rival all comers is the new event scheduled for the Thunderboats Unlimited race program in San Diego in September.

The event, a Sailing Regatta for multi-hulls, is scheduled to run Sunday, September 10 to establish world records.

"We're excited over the Regata," Steve Whalen, Thunderboat Race chairman, said. "It's new and it's different and we're sure it will appeal to all multi-hull sailors."

The innovativeness of the race is that the boats will not be sailing from one point to another in lines, but around an oval course," Whalen said. "Flights will launch every three to five minutes depending on the number of entries and elimination is one lap."

The final heat will be run on the 2½ mile surveyed Unlimited course.

Contact for the Sailing Regata or the Thunderboats themselves is available by calling (714) 239-0154 or writing Thunderboats Unlimited, 2930 Marcy ace., San Diego 92113.

26 young boxers will display various degrees of fistic prowess Wednesday at the Mt. Miguel High school gym.

The Miguel boxers, under the watchful eye of Stu Rubine are featured as part of the 4th annual Fight Night program which starts at 7 p.m.

Ringside announcer will be tv and radio personality Tom "Shotgun" Kelly, himself a Miguel graduate.

Bernie Taggers, presently coach of the only other high school boxing program in Southern California at El Capitan High School will referee.

Working the corners will be Danny Rodriguez, long time aide to Sid Flaherty and trainer of such world champion boxers as Bobo Olson, Eddie Machen and Denny Moyers. In the other corner, will be Spud Murphy, a young, successful professional boxer from San Diego.

Also on hand will be Dr. Dean, hypnotist — entertainer and owner of the New Boxing Club of America Gym, which is managed by Bill Murphy, one of the foremost managers on the West Coast.

"Fight Night" normally attracts crowds of about 850 and the same is expected on the 31st.

More than 700 students have been involved in the program and there have been no injuries. Many students who have never been involved in school before are getting recognition and respect, and segments of the Lemon Grove and Spring Valley community are involved in school for the first time as well. Teachers have indicated that some students have become better workers after being involved in boxing class, because of improved self-concept, Rubine said.

On the card are:

Anthony Cahanding vs. Bob Foster — 115 pounds.

Tony Bush vs. Fagelele Simati — 190

Alberto Castrejon vs. Peter Ray — 150

Leland Johnson vs. Charles Portlock — 126

Anthony Montreiro vs. Johnny Franco — 126

Benito Array vs. Check Meyers — 145

Greg Casey vs. Rick Bradzinski — 126

Bob Bering vs. Scott Brodzinski — 105

Some of Rubine's boxers have fought in preliminaries at the San Diego Coliseum within recent weeks. Tickets are $1.

Trout Stocking Set for Cuyamaca

Lake Cuyamaca is returning to its normal size of approximately 110 surface acres as water is being released down Boulder Creek to El Capitan Reservoir.

An exceptionally heavy trout stocking program is planned for this month. Water temperatures are rising, which leads to increased feeding activities in all species. Trout have been biting well on salmon eggs and lures both for shore and boat anglers. Bass and bluegill catches have been excellent.

Bass are generally being taken on lures and flies. One recent bass limit included an 8¼ pounder caught with a shiner.

Bluegill are biting on redworms at the south end of the lake.

Cuyamaca is open daily from sunrise to 7 p.m. Boat, motor, and tackle rentals are available. Reservations should be made for weekend boats and motors by calling (714) 765-0515.

Overnight camping is available for self-contained vehicles on both south shore parking lots. Space is on a first-come first-served basis. Normally no vehicle is turned away, however, for the upcoming Memorial Day weekend may change that.

Chacon Stops Campos; Eyes Jr. Light Crown

Bobby Chacon, former featherweight boxing champion, now on a comeback trail after suffering a siege of bursitis of the right elbow for nearly six months, showed he had lost none of his ability Friday night at the Coliseum. He knocked out Ingacio Campos of Tijuana at 47 seconds into the 7th round.

The fight was stopped by referee Bobby Valdez when cornermen for Campos tossed in the towel. The referee was already on his way across the ring when the towel was thrown. Campos was almost defenseless.

Afterward, Chacon, who had planned to have several scraps before meeting Sammy Serrano, the junior lightweight champion — perhaps in San Diego during the week of the All-Star baseball game — said "I don't believe I need another fight, I'm ready for Serrano right now."

In other bouts Walter Wilcott KO's Dave Hinton at 23 seconds of the 2nd round; Clinton Campbell held Eric Bonilla to a 4-round draw; Rich Mills took a 4-round decision over Elliott Bryant; Bert Lee scored a KO at 2:23 of the 2nd round of his match with Salanis Sultan, and Nando Lugo stopped Juan Baez at 2:25 2nd round.

The next card at the Coliseum is scheduled for June 2 when the long awaited meeting between Ronnie Wilson and Leni Vanes of Samoa.

Wilson, a popular local light-heavyweight, draws large crowds when he fights.

Vanesi, in three fights here has proved to be one of the tougher lightheavies in the business.

The Coliseum is at 15th and E Streets.

Cajon Track Week-end Has Stocks, Midgets

It will be a busy Memorial Day week-end on Cajon Speedway's 3/8 mile banked oval.

Back-to-back super stock and midget shows will be featured on the Gillespie field track.

Saturday night 55 super stocks will turn out for the Ted Kallos Memorial Event. The race is named in honor of the Spring Valley driver who was fatally injured in a racing accident at the track September 24 last year.

Highlighting the evening will be the first extra lap main event of the season, with 22 machines going postward for a distance of 75-laps.

And if the last two weeks have been any indication, there may be another surprise winner Saturday night. Two weeks ago Larry Lyon of Santee took his first-ever main event and last week 21-year old Dennis Beat of San Diego led wire to wire and captured his first feature.

Other super stock events will include a 30-lap B main, four 8-lap heat races and two 6-lap trophy dashes.

On Sunday, the Midgets will be holding their first of four races this season on Cajon's oval. Last year the powerful little cars, which were the most popular form of racing in this country 30 years ago, returned to Cajon for the first time in several years. Danny McKnight, Dave Stoltz and Lonnie Caruthers won main events last season.

The speedy midgets will find point leader Jim Lauri hoping to stop the drive of Roy Cook Jr. in the chase for the 1978 title in Sunday's 30-lap finale. Cook's win last week at So. Bay Park Speedway was his fifth of the season while Lauri has finished well each time out to earn enough points to lead.

Qualifying both nights will be at 6:30, with the first racing event set for 8:00.

'Death Match' Tops Card at Coliseum Tues.

Moondog Mayne, professional wrestling King of the Mexican Death matches and holder of the NWA American Title meets Chavo Guerrero, the Proud Mexican, S.D. Coliseum champion in next week's Mexican Death match.

American Tag Team titlists, Roddy Piper and Outlaw Ron Bass defend the title against Black Gordman and Hector Guerrero.

Three bouts leading to a 14-man Battle Royal will be staged Tuesday. Each wrestler puts up $250 which goes into the Battle Royal purse. The winners of each bout will enter next week's Battle free. The three losers will leave town.

In Tuesday's elimination bouts Goliath meets David; Ron Bass fights KO Perez and Coloso Colosetti takes on Hector Guerrero.

Gong sounds at 7:30. The Coliseum is at 15th and E streets in downtown San Diego.

Tj Bullfights Sunday

Matadors Manolo Martinez and Curro Rivera will each face a fierce bull during the Memorial Weekend corrida Sunday in the downtown bullring, El Toreo de Tijuana.

Sockers in Chicago; Come Home Wednesday

The San Diego Sockers travel to Chicago for a Sunday game against the only winless team in the North American Soccer League, the Chicago Sting. Game time at Wrigley Field will be 2:30 p.m., CST.

That game will be broadcast on KOGO radio at 4 p.m., with Joe Starkey and George Logan at the mike.

All 3 recent acquisitions of the Sockers have scored their first goals in their new uniforms, one of them being a game winner.

Walker McCall notched his first just five minutes into last week's game in Ft. Lauderdale, and Mark Demling, just in from San Jose, scored the Sockers initial goal against Detroit this past Saturday.

It was Ade Coker's goal three minutes into sudden death overtime that gave the Sockers a 2-1 victory over the Express, and it was also Coker's first goal of 1978.

San Diego's season record now stands at 6-5, and the Sockers hold second place in the American Conference-Western Division with 53 points. The California Surf continue in first place, four points up on San Diego, with Oakland third, 42 points, and San Jose fourth with 37.

The Sockers return to San Diego Wednesday for a game with New England.

The unemployment figures for April showed 42,000 San Diegans were out of work. Previously, in March some 50,900 were unemployed.

The Park and Pool lot currently accommodates some 30 vehicles and may be expanded to 50 vehicles.

Miller's Program Pilot for State Violators Units

As a result of the success of a pilot program in District Attorney Ed Miller's office, prosecutors throughout California are establishing State-funded Major Violators Units.

"As the result of surveys done across the county," Miller said, "we learned that 7 percent of the criminal population was committing 25 percent of all reported crimes. Something had to be done to stem that abnormal percentage and the Major Violators Unit was an attempt to stop that hard core 7 percent."

The MVU was established in Miller's office in 1975 and was directed at the prosecution of repeat felons who committed robbery or robbery-related homicides.

"Although we cannot trace the results directly to MVU," Miller said, "we do know the robbery rate—which was skyrocketing prior to 1975—has dropped two percent. That figure is encouraging."

Miller said, as a result of the Unit's success, the California legislature established State-level funding for similar units in District Attorney's offices throughout the state.

"Our MVU has a conviction rate of 96 percent, with 94 percent of those convicted being sent to prison." Miller said. "With the new State funding, we are going to expand the unit into the area of burglary and target for prosecution by this unit those burglars who previously have been convicted."

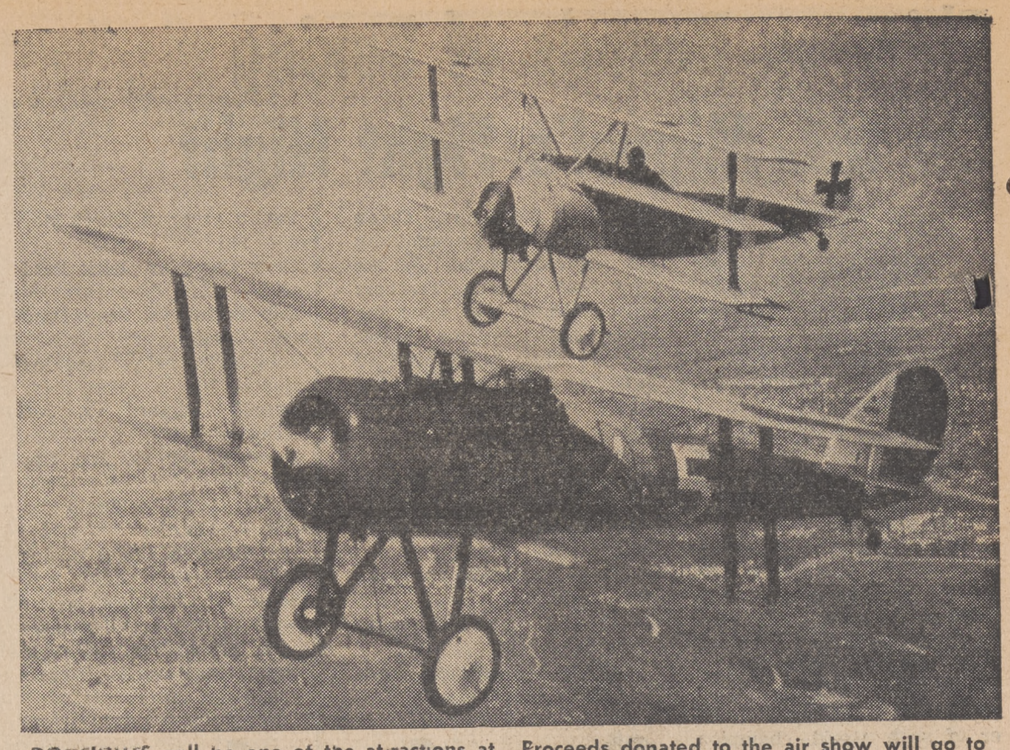
Deputy District Attorney Richard Neely, who is in charge of the unit, said a summary of the unit's prosecutions since 1975 has revealed the following profile:

"The typical offender is male (96.8%), single or divorced (74.5%), approximately 26 years of age and on either parole or probation (68%)."

Neely added that almost half—43.8%—of those prosecuted by MVU are known or suspect to be habitual drug users.

As a result of the State funding, special prosecution units are being established in fifteen District Attorneys' offices representing almost 90% of the State population.

San Diego will receive $275,000 from the State fund.



DOGFIGHTS will be one of the attractions at the May 27, 28, and 29 San Diego Memorial Air Show at Brown Field sponsored by the San Diego Squadron of the Combat Pilots Association.
Proceeds donated to the air show will go to help rebuild the destroyed Aerospace Museum in Balboa Park.
The show will also feature barnstorming rides in open cockpit aircraft.

S.D. State Hearings Planned On Pest Control 'Conspiracy'

One of three statewide public hearings on investigations into alleged unethical business practices between real estate and past control operators will be held in San Diego, according to state Structural Pest Control Board member Neil Good.

The hearings and investigations were called for by Good, of San Diego County, who is one of four public members appointed by the Governor to regulate and license the state's structural pest control industry.

"Because most lenders require a 'clear' structural pest control report before a home loan, real estate licensees and structural pest control licensees depend upon each other when houses are sold," Good said.

He said it is in the interest of real estate agents to obtain a report with the least amount of work because if the repair costs are too high, the seller may decide not to sell or the prospective buyer may not want to buy.

If this happens, Good explained, and the deal falls through, the pest control operator is often not paid for the inspection, or even worse, may not get further referrals from the real estate agent.

"This daily marketplace interaction between pest control operator and real estate agents creates many pressures and consequently, many opportunities for conspiracy or collusion," Good said.

Licensees of both regulatory agencies have complained bitterly to agency officials and board members about the conspiracy relationships that exist. This collusion may be as obvious as a formal agreement or as subtle as an 'understanding' and constant economic pressure.

"Ever since becoming a member of the board, I've heard stories of kickbacks, bribes and collusion between real estate agents and pest control inspectors. Not one person, however, would voluntarily come out openly and tell the board of these activities," he said.

Because of their reticence, Good asked the Board to request the Director of Consumer Affairs and the Real Estate Commissioner to undertake an investigation and hold hearings into unethical business practices.

"Both Richard Spohn, director of consumer affairs, and David Fox, commissioner of real estate, have been enthusiastic in their support of the investigation," Good said. "They realize, as I do, that the majority of the professionals in these two fields are just as alarmed as we are at these practices."

Good said the hearings will spotlight unethical business activities and develop plans to reduce or deter collusive arrangements. After the hearings, a report containing findings for both administrative and legislative changes will be issued.

The hearing panel — which will meet in San Francisco and Los Angeles as well as San Diego sometime in July—will consist of Spohn, Fox, Good and as yet unnamed fourth member from the Real Estate Commission.

Good said that if these avtivities are allowed to continue both the real estate and pest control operators will lose the confidence of the public.

He said, "Some of the attemps to bribe pest control operators would be comical if not illegal, unethical and immoral. One operator told of being confronted with cash pinned under the beams under the house so that the pest control operator would overlook infestations and give the house, which is usually up for sale, a clear report."

In one community, Good was told pest control operators virtually bid against each other to see which one will have an exclusive kick back contract with a real estate broker.

Good said, "With the phenomenal growth of California's population and the slowing of new residential construction, the existing housing stock and its preservation is of vital importance. When a pest control operator and a real estate broker conspire to defraud the consumer they are also doing great harm to the entire California society."

Good urged consumers who could aid investigators in verifying cases of collusion between real estate agents and pest control inspectors to contact, in writing, the State Structural Pest Control Board, 1430 Howe ave., Sacramento, CA 95825.

"Responses will be kept in confidence," Good said, "and each complaint will be checked out."

On-Ramp Lights May Be Curbing Rush Hour

By Fred Ash

It was a tough first day for the new on-ramp meters for Freeway-94 but the new lights may have the early morning traffic moving again.

According to CanTrans traffic systems officer Dick Weaver the early morning traiffic for Free 94 has been clocked moving at a steady 45 to 55 mile per hour pace.

"We're very pleased to see the system do its job," Weaver said.

He added the first day the lights were turned on nearly turned into a disaster.

"We had some confusion over the sign placed on the ramp signal lights.

"The sign read: One Car Per Green. What happened the first morning we turned on the lights was drivers interepreted the signs to mean only one car per lane could enter the freeway per green light.

"The signs allow two cars per lane to enter the freeway during one traffic light cycle. The result of all this was seven to eight minute stops at the light."

If that wasn't enough, Weaver said there was an accident involving a large truck. said the maximum wait for a light to turn green would now be about two minutes.

"We have received many calls from drivers," Weaver added, "saying they like the new system. Some have told us morning rush hour is like driving with weekend traffic."

There are three lights left to be turned on. Those lights are on the on-ramps at Grossmont, Lemon, and Fuerte avenues.

Some people believed that unless the king sat up at all times, no winds would blow and all navigation would be endangered.

Sheriff's Eye New Scam Claims

A new con game to take advantage of citizens taking part in crime prevention programs is apparently at work throughout San Diego County, according to Detective Mary Stables of the sheriff's fraud unit.

"Citizens are reporting to us that a man, representing himself as either a deputy sheriff or representing the Deputy Sheriff's Assn., telephones and offers to make a crime prevention home inspection in return for a $20 donation to help the sheriff's crime prevention unit and to combat drug related juvenile delinquency," she said.

Sgt. Ted Bear of the sheriff's crime prevention unit says that's not the way the program works.

"We don't call anyone to solicit home inspections. We offer this service. but the citizens have to call us and ask for it. And we certainly do not accept donations," he said.

Detective Stables said she has received calls from citizens in all areas of the county.

"Each of the citizens has become suspicious and has broken off contact before committing to make a donation, then called us. What we need now is to get in touch with some victim; someone who has actually made donations in response to these phone calls," she said.

Anyone who has made such a donation is asked to call Detective Mary Stables, Sheriff's Fraud Detail, 236-2951.

Study Reveals Unexpected Data on Juvenile Inmates

SACRAMENTO — A new study issued by the California Department of the Youth Authority has shot down a common belief—most juvenile offenders come from broken homes.

The study, issued by the CYA last week, showed some 74 percent of the youths admitted to California's juvenile halls were living with either their natural or adoptive parents at the time of arrest.

The report which surveyed the youths admitted to California Youth Authority Halls, also found these statistics on the state's juvenile offenders:

— Youths tend to be more violent now than in 1970. The report showed violent crimes by youths have doubled in the past seven years. In 1970, 21 percent of the first commitments were due to violent crimes while last year 41 percent of those first admitted to juvenile hall were arrested for violent acts such as murder.

— Some 38 percent of the youths currently serving time in California Youth Authority institutions used or possessed a gun.

— Some 30 percent of the inmates, four times as many as in 1970, used or possessed alcohol during their crime.

— More than two-thirds of the offenders were unemployed at the time of their arrest.

— More than one-half of the inmates had family members who had criminal records.
